

SECRET FACT

Did the universe have a beginning?

Only for the Little Planets Crew

1. The second law of thermodynamics: usable energy runs down (entropy increases).

2. If the universe were eternal, it would have 'burned out': so many conclude it had a beginning.

3. Georges Lemaître, who proposed a universe with a beginning, was a priest and a scientist.

"In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth." — Genesis 1:1
